About Virus

What is Corona Virus?

Coronavirus, also known as Covid-19, is an infectious disease caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus. It affects the human respiratory system, leading to difficulty in breathing.

Variants of Corona Virus?

New variants of SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19, will continue to occur.

CDC coordinates collaborative partnerships which continue to fuel the largest viral genomic sequencing effort to date.

The Omicron variant, which emerged in November 2021, has many lineages. New lineages continue to emerge and spread in the United States and globally.
